

Scribe Opens Christmas Drive Today

The Scribe's annual Christmas fund drive for the Parents and Friends of Mentally Retarded Children gets underway today and will run through the week, ending on Dec. 12.

The sisters of Phi Delta Rho, who handled the collection last year, have joined forces with the Scribe again. The collection table will be set up in Alumni Hall, and each organization on campus will have a labeled bottle into which students may place larger contributions.

At the end of the week, the organization bottle containing the most money will be awarded a spot on the Scribe plaque. The presentation, which will be made by one of the sisters of Phi Delta Rho, will take place at the Christmas Ball. In last year's fund drive, APO took first place.

Although now national in scope the Parents and Friends of Mentally Retarded Children began as separate local groups, expanding to the mass network of organizations across the country. Kennedy Center, the local Bridgeport chapter of Parents and Friends, has been in operation only since Feb. 26, 1956. However, in this short space of time, retarded children from the entire area have been educated and re-educated in the functions which we have come to consider everyday, but for them has meant a step on the road to social integration and acceptance.

This kind of education for the mentally retarded child does not happen overnight. It is a long, arduous, trying, often frustrating, and finally rewarding training period. The reward is worth all the time and effort.

But these rewards do not come just by wishing and hoping. It takes trained personnel and equipment. And these cost money. Although some allotments are made from the national organization, the Kennedy Center depends to a very large extent, on local fund drives and contributions—your contributions.

The future of the mentally retarded child is a lot brighter today than it was a few years ago when he or she was the forgotten child.

Your contributions will help the retarded smile and play again—let us show them that they are not forgotten.

Class Rings in Today; '58 Orders Taken Now

Senior graduation rings will be available at the student activities office tomorrow at noon, according to George Stanley, Director of Student Activities.

On Monday a factory representative will be on campus to take orders for rings from graduating seniors. The rings ordered at this time will be delivered early in January, Stanley stated.

Your contribution can help take some of the loneliness out of this little girl's life.

A dollar from you is worth millions to this little tot. Drop some money in the milk bottle of your choice at the table in Alumni Hall. It will make your Christmas a lot merrier.

Freshman Candidate Forms Ready Now

by Lorri Harner

All 'budding statesmen' in the freshman class who are interested in starting their legislative careers in our Student Council may obtain the necessary forms in the Student Council office on the third floor of Alumni Hall through December 6.

Any freshman (less than 24 credits completed) not on probation but with "extra time and energy" is urged to run for office, by Vinny Caprio, president of the Council. Those elected are expected to attend a two hour Council meeting each Wednesday afternoon, to work in the Council office and to serve on several committees.

The vacant freshman posts are president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, and first and second alternates. Serving dual purpose, these are both freshman class officers and Student Council members. The candidate receiving the most votes will be president; next highest, vice-president etc.

The forms each candidate must fill out include a list of campaign rules and a nomination petition with signatures of 25 freshmen. Each candidate must write a short campaign statement on these forms which may be used for publicity purposes.

The elections will be held in Alumni Hall from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m., Dec. 12 and 13. ID card is needed to vote.

Ray Eberle Band Featured At Christmas Ball on Dec. 13

RAY EBERLE

The music of Ray Eberle, the crowning of the Snowflake Queen and the presentation of the Scribe Christmas Charity Drive plaque to the winning group will round out the festivities at the Christmas Ball on Dec. 13, at the Ritz Ballroom.

Eberle, long remembered as a Glenn Miller regular, will bring his dance band to Bridgeport after a tour of leading hotels and college campuses.

Lois Prentice, who has reigned as the Snowflake Queen during the year will hand over her crown to the co-ed selected by the student body in the elections next week at Alumni Hall. The finalists in the contest will be selected by a board of judges comprised of faculty and staff members at a tea next Wednesday. The contest is sponsored by SOS fraternity.

All Right . . . Which One of You Guys Swiped My Undershirt?

Steve West of Park Hall is five dollars richer than he was when he sent in his winning Krazy Kaption last week. But don't despair if your gem didn't catch the judges' fancy. The Kontest will continue this week so get in the fun and money. See page four for this week's picture and some of the runners up in last week's contest.

VET SIGNING

The second signing period for Korean Vets will be from Dec. 2, through Dec. 5. Day vets sign in Howland Hall Veterans Office and Evening vets in Fones Hall. All Korean vets enrolled under the G. I. Bill should sign. Don't delay your check—sign on time.

Arnold Sparks Gym Weekend

The Arnold College Division is sponsoring a gymnastic weekend on Friday and Saturday at the Gym. Friday evening will be devoted to an informal workout on all gymnastic apparatus.

Members of the public schools, boys' clubs, universities, and the Turnvereins of the entire state have been invited to participate that evening, to increase the interest in gymnastics. Yale University had a similar gymnastic evening in 1955, and the University of Bridgeport attracted nearly 100 participants last spring. It is expected that between 100 and 200 men and women, boys and girls, will be on hand that evening. Anyone interested in either participating or watching is invited.

On Saturday there will be formal instruction on the horizontal bar, parallel bar, springboard, trampoline, side horse, flying rings, balance beam, tumbling, and pyramid building. Instruction will be from 10 to 12 noon and 2 to 4:30 p. m.

Come and Get 'Em—Polio Shots Again Available

The University Health Department announced this week that polio vaccine shots will be made available to students and faculty members on Friday between 8:30 and 11 a.m.

University Nurse, Sylvia Riley, stated that first, second and third series shots will be offered. Students who have not received their first shot from the University however, must bring verification of the initial inoculation from their family doctor before they will be allowed to take the remainder of the series.

Mrs. Riley also announced that persons who received their first shot over six months ago can still take the secondary inoculation. She stated that Connecticut State Health Department has advised that the shots are still effective even though the usual six month waiting period between shots has been extended.

Students under 21 must bring parental permission on the University forms now available at the Health Center and Alumni Hall.

The shots will cost minor students $1, while everyone else will be charged $2.

— 'Thunder' Opens Tomorrow Night —

Along Park Place

A great many complaints that have been voiced in and around the hollow halls of ivy deal with the consumption of too much of the traditional Thanksgiving bird. And in this general vane, a cute little Frosh named Sara gave us the following cure to all the ills of overweight students.

Breakfast: 3 bellybuttons from navel oranges, 1 donut hole (unsugared), 5 scraped crumbs from burnt toast and 1 cup dehydrated coffee.

Lunch: 3 poppyseeds, 4 eyes from Irish potatoes, 1 scalded fin, 1 glass of tea steam.

Dinner: 4 chopped banana seeds, 1 chopped butterfly liver (rare), 1 portion of prime ribs of taupoies au jus aroma of an empty custard pieplate, 1 cup of boiled out tablecloth stains.

Although it may not appear to be the most appetizing menu your peepers have ever peeped, Sara claims it is a "Mad" diet and if followed conscientiously it will surely shed added poundage.

Engineering major Phil Ferber has given his heart and SOS pin to pretty Iris Lashin. Iris, when not spending her time with Phil, is studying the subjects fundamental with being an executive secretary. Hope she runs slower than some secretaries we know.

The brothers of Theta Sigma were in attendance at Max's Saturday night. While there, the vocal talents of Rick Eckland and Bryce McNaughton were sorrowfully exhibited. These fellows may not be the worst singers in this world, but they are next.

Upon Beta Sigma has announced the election of its new officers. Bill Bancala is prexy, Bruce Doyle vice-president, Doug Towers scribe, and Hugh Williamson is keeper of the coin. The new officers have promised to rebuild the fraternity to the standards it once had.

After a sneak preview of Campus Thunder, which raises its curtain tomorrow night at the Klein Memorial, we suggest that you watch closely the sparks that fly during the torrid love scenes enacted by Mona Faulkner and Joe Messineo. After viewing these two in action, and it sure was action, we have but one comment to make—wheew! ! ! The flaming redhead will really kindle that fire within you.

Fifi, another sweetie in the production will really amaze you with her finer qualities. For the general knowledge of all the new students, Fifi is a traditional character with Thunder, and this year the poor little French girl doesn't know how to hold her liquor. Paunchy Chaunsey will enact this year's chapter in the poor dearie's life.

Be sure to listen attentively to the ballads tenderly rendered by lovely Kathy DeMayo. On the lighter side of things, the comical antics of Bob Ruge, who is teamed up with Maryann Cuccia this year, will have you splitting your sides. Then too, the moon scene with its kitty carrying sputnik is really out of this world.

The sisters of Beta Gamma, in an example of kindness, gave a needy family a good old fashion

Thanksgiving day. This is another one in the series of many good and humane deeds done by the sororities and fraternities on campus. There are some who would have you believe that these groups sponsor nothing but beer parties and orgies; however, these are not truthful facts, and a look at some of the traditions that have been passed on through the years will show you the good these groups do.

The ever vivacious Crit Herr, celebrated the Thanksgiving holiday by accepting the pin of Kent Weaver. Crit is a BG lassie and Kent hails from Franklin and Marshall College in Pennsylvania.

Following the first night performance of "Thunder", ADO fraternity will hold a dance and make the presentation of the "Sidney Award". The festivities will be held at the Mary Journey's Inn on Fairfield Avenue, from 10:00 p.m. until 3:00 a.m. It's one of those bring-your-own affairs. As a note of general knowledge, the "Sidney Award" is presented to the outstanding performer in the "Thunder" cast.

Carol Gross, an elementary education student will be blinding the eyes of her young pupils with the sparkler she just received. The poor lad, who succumbed to the charms of the fatal female is Wally Shapiro of SLX fame.

Dear Editor:

May we render unto the editor what is due him: applause and congratulations for a fine piece of editorial writing.

The fiasco of the Christmas Vacation was deserving of every barb in your editorial. We may not be original, but we are sincere when we say that criticism breeds progress.

The Engineering Society Harry Sinclair, Pres.

Dear Editor:

It seems that the reasons given by the University administration for not considering the early Christmas vacation date were as follows:

1. The University has made commitments with outside groups, assuring these groups that no classes would be held during the period of time listed in the '57-'59 catalogue for Christmas vacation.

2. Many instructors, students and parents have already made vacation plans based upon the Dec. 21-Jan. 6 vacation plan.

Dickason Promises 'Strong Story Line' in Campus Thunder

Campus Thunder '58 will open Friday evening at the Klein auditorium for a three-day run. Performances of the entirely new collegiate production have also been scheduled for Saturday and Monday evening.

A company of 100 students, 28 original songs, glamorous costumes and scenery, "Fifi" and her traditional "Thunderettes," often called "New England's most glamorous women," and the Campus Thunder "Genie" are featured in the show.

Campus Thunder '58 departs from previous productions in that this year's edition will be more of a Broadway musical comedy show with a strong story line running throughout.

Director Albert A. Dickason has titled the show "The Red Longjohns."

Based on a true story with a local flavor, "The Red Longjohns" actually "portrays" the struggle of Mrs. Betty Sobel, of 126 Marilyn drive (Bridgeport) to establish ballet tights as a new fashion for everyday wear. Mrs. Sobel, calls her product "Leg-a-tees."

Within "The Red Longjohns" the story line revolves around the plight of a 'longjohn' factory and the efforts to save it from bankruptcy in the modern age when long woolen underwear has become passe.

Director Dickason describes the show as the best in Campus Thunder history, full of fun, humor and pathos while maintaining the extravaganza format for which Campus Thunder shows have become known throughout the East.

Katherine Demayo as "Jessie Todd," Jack Zalkind as "Hamilton Johns" and Lucy Wisinski as "Taimi Ramie" have lead roles in the production.

Featured performers include Robert Ruge as "Wellington Rupp," Mary Ann Cuccia as "Bella Custard," Joe Messineo as "Duncan," Mona Faulkner as "Eloise," Barbara Ann Kalinski as "Leonara," Richard Ameis as the traditional "Genie," Philip Ferber as "Pete," Charles Kopin as "Buckles," and Edward Morrison as "Uncle Willie".

Girls of the company include: Joanne Alechnowicz, June Bart-ram, Carole Breen, Joan Flynn, Tami Garay, Pat Briffin, Ann Loconto, Lois Prentice, Shirley Sabo, Sally Saffo, Barbara San-islo, and Karen Smith.

Men of the company are: Ken Byers, Virgil Durso, Vincent Fal-cone, Norman Fattibene, Philip Ferber, Gerald Greenstein, Ter-rence Johansen, Charles J. Ko-pin, Steve Grasso, Ted Passar-elli, Joel Schwartz and Ernie Svab.

Cast as the "Thunderettes" are: Gary Adzima, Joseph Christiano, Louis Haber, Joseph Kraynak, Stuart Plotnick, Roger Powers, John Scully, Steve Soracco, Wal-ter Zuckerman, and Philip Bush as "Fifi".

Technical cast members in-clude: John E. Reed, stage man-ager; Bernard Goldberg, tech-nical director; Doris Newman, business manager; Marguerite Linse, costumes; Judy Blair, chor-eography; Adeline Meath, ac-companist.

Also, Harry Ahlberg, musical arrangements; Gus Meyers, Jr., orchestra; Diane Plancon, assist-ant to Mr. Dickason; Donald Mc-Intyre, set designing; Rannie Edwards, special costume design; Bertram Arthur, publicity; Vic-tor Muniec, public relations; Ger-ald Greenstein, property master.

Also, Edward Lucas, ass't stage manager; Mr. Goldberg, lighting; Roger Lefkon, fly man; Dick Deichmann, sport man; Louise Clark, Ann Faiella, Ilene Gold-berg, script girls; Dolores Ludka, make up supervisor; Iris Lashin and Eileen Levin, make up co-chairman; Tobie Fuchs, wardrobe chairmen; Eda Faber, staff sec-retary; Spec Sanders, art work; Don McIntyre, program caver.

Also, Joseph Schlacter, Ann Godwin, Joan Fingold, Barbara Hochberg, prop assistants; Jop Lebowitz, Marilyn Johnson, oJan Koehler, Kenneth Micholovich, Joni Schulman and Nan Henig.

FIFI WITHOUT WARPAINT is really Phil Bush. A veteran of the chorus line, this year he made good.

Kontest No. 2 Starts Today

Steve West of Park Hall made campus history last week with his winning entry in the Scribe's Krazy Kaption Kontest. West will receive a five dollar prize this week.

The winning caption (see page 1) was selected from a host of entries by the Scribe Kontest Board. The pile of captions were finally boiled down to five contenders from which West's howler was selected.

Here are some of the runner up Kaptions:

"You and your crazy panty raids." Jerry Norwood.
"Dean, just tell her you're going on Sabbatical!" by Joe O'Brien.
"Are you sure you don't need a man's deoderant?" by Mickey Donahue.

"To hell with the Dean, I'm starting my vacation on the eighteenth anyway!" by Bill Herlihy.

The Kontest will continue this week so try your humor and win yourself five dollars.

Here are the official rules for the contest:

1. Only students registered at the University, faculty members and staff workers are eligible for entry into the contest.
2. No member of the Scribe staff is eligible for prizes.
3. All entries must be delivered to the Scribe mailbox (second floor Alumni Hall) before noon on the Friday following publication of the picture.
4. In case of ties or duplicate entries, the judges will have final authority.
5. The judges for the contest will be the Scribe Editorial Board.
6. One and only one entry will be considered from each student faculty member or staff worker.
7. The judges reserve the right to disqualify any questionable entry.
8. All student entries must be accompanied by a student number.

Cagemen Drop Opener 89-74

by Rodger Lefkon

Bridgeport opened its 1957-58 basketball campaign on a sour note Monday evening by dropping an 89-74 decision to Brandeis University. UB was seeking revenge for last years 64-44 trouncing at the hands of the Judges, but it wasn't in the cards. Brandeis took control of the game from the opening tap and never relinquished control.

Dr. Herbert Glines began his eleventh campaign as head basketball coach, during which time he has compiled a record of 122 wins as against 104 defeats.

For the Knights this is only the first of many tough battles to come, for included in their twenty-five game schedule are such eastern collegiate powers as St. Johns, Manhattan, Assumption, St. Francis and Iona. So unless things start to get better in a hurry this could be a long, long season for Coach Glines.

Your Headquarters for Superior Pipes and Tobaccos

UB is definitely lacking experienced as evidenced in their poor team play Monday evening. Sonhmores dominated the Bridgeport starting lineup which included, Bob Laemel, last year's leading Frosh scorer, Joe Colello, Ed Wysocki, and returning lettermen, Charley Jessup, and Hal Hellerman. Hellerman finished second in scoring last season with a 13.30 average.

In copping the opener Brandeis made it two in a row and now lead Bridgeport in the season series 2-0. Rudy Finderson who played an important role in last year's win over UB was the
